

I wish to organize myself better in the classroom and outside the classroom. I tend to struggle with organizing myself for classes and I am quite a scattered person. I need to focus on my main priorities and stop putting large amounts of time into things that do not matter. I often find myself overwhelmed by deadlines and responsibilities because I don't have a clear system for managing my time and tasks. Developing better organization skills will help me stay focused, reduce stress, and make consistent progress toward my academic and personal goals.
